Tom, we are once again trying to set up a time to chat with you and/or your consultant, if you so choose. We are available tomorrow from 11-2 or 3-4:30 for a short call (30 minutes at most). If those times are not convenient, I would ask that you designate specific times that you are available in the coming few days to have a conference call.

I must point out that if we are unable to schedule something in the short term, we may have to consider our options to get your full attention on this matter.

Jim,

Please allow this to follow up on your call on Friday with my partner, Andy Kazin. As Andy mentioned, we are waiting on the client to schedule a follow up radon test of the building now that the radon remediation system is in place. We expect to have the results to Dan in the next 10 days. Based on discussions with the client, the tenant is anticipated to occupy the lower level space on or about October 15th. The tenant had expected to be in earlier, but it seems that the start date has been pushed back due to business delays.
